DAY'S DOINGS OF NORTH SCRANTON

NUMBER OF WELL KNOWN YOUNG PEOPLE WEDDED.

John J. Grady and Miss Sabina Mulcrone United in Holy Rosary Church-Miss May Jones, of Wayne Avenue and Daniel Jenkins, of Throop Street Married at Bride's Home-Mutes Joined for Life. Damage Done by the Storm. Boy's Narrow Escape from Death.

The marriage of John J. Grady, of William street, to Miss Sabina Mulcrone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Mulcrone, of 1863 Pawnee street, was celebrated in Holy Rosary church yesterday morning. The bridal party entered the church at precisely 8 o'clovk and marched up the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, At the altar they were met by Rev. N. J. McManus, who united the young people for life.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Annie Mulcrone, of Jermyn. John Mayock, of Pittston, was best man. The bride wore a dress of figured broadcloth, trimmed with chiffon and white satin. Her attendant was dressed in brown serge with chiffon trimmings. As the bridal party left the church Miss Libbic Neary rendered "O, Promise Me."

They were driven to the home of the bride where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. Congratulations and presents were numerous. Mr. and Mrs. Grady left on the 1.55 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train for New York city and other interesting points. Both are popular young people. They will reside here on their re-

HOME WEDDING.

A pretty home marriage occurred last evening, the contracting parties being Miss Mary Jones, of Wayne avenue, and Daniel Jenkins, of Throop at the home of the bride on Wayne avenue, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Rev. Dr. R. S. Jones, D. D., pastor of the Weish Congregational church, tied the nuptial knot in the presence of a large number of invited guests.

The bride was attended by Miss Alice Thomas. Both were handsomely costumed. The groomsman was John Newton. After the nuptial knot had been tied, congratulations and presents were bestowed in profusion on the young couple. A social season which afforded great pleasure was indulged in until midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins dispensed with a wedding tour and will commence housekeeping at once on Wayne avenue,

BEFORE THE ALDERMAN.

Alderman Roberts was confronted with another batch of law suits last evening. William Mulcrone instituted action against Mrs. Mary Masters, Patrick Kerrigan, James and John Malloy. The charge was assault and He exhibited three badly ribs to the alderman which he said the defendants inflicted by stone throwing. The evidence furnished called for ball in the sum of $300

The telephone circuit was badly impaired and the arc lamps were out until a late hour last night. Old Glory at No. 25 school was torn into shreds. Reports of damage to fruit trees were numerous.

NARROW ESCAPE.

A youth came within an ace of being crushed to death yesterday morning by the steam roller which is used in the repairs on West Market street. He, with a number of companions, was riding on the engine. His foot slipped and he fell directly in the paths of the weighty apparatus, Fortunately he regained his feet just in time to avoid being crushed. The experience was a thrilling one.

FELL DOWN STAIRS.

Mrs. Mary Dowd met with a painful accident at her home on Washburn street yesterday afternoon. Just before the storm she went upstairs to close the window. After accomplishing this she started to go downstairs, and in descending tripped and fell headlong, breaking her ankle and arm. Mrs. Dowd was picked up and conveyed to her room, where a physician attended to her injuries.

RUMOR PROVED FALSE.

There was a rumor on the streets yesterday that Dr. George B. Beach, the well-known physician of South Main avenue, was dead. The rumor proved false. Dr. Beach went to Philadelphia some time ago to be operated upon for appendicitis. Dr. Dever, an eminent physician, performed the opcration successfully.

Dr. Beach is now at Port Carbon, Pa., where he is getting along nicely. His many friends will be glad to hear
